WeakRisk Sport Solutions

The future of football
for an unborn football

The inappropriate analysis of the performance, poor communication between the club staff prevent the achievement of the expected targets.

The tools for monitoring and analyzing the performance data, which are essential for understanding the components affecting a sporting outcome, are inadequate

The poor communication between the club staff, makes synergies rather difficult.

Today's pace of training and matches requires tools to monitor workloads, improve player performance and prevent injuries.

The data of the youth sectors are not collected. These are essential information to evaluate the growth of the players and make targeted choices for the future.

Scouting is a vital resource, that is often not adequately developed

Lack of track record on medical data, injuries and treatments practiced for rehabilitation

An in cloud multi-platform system (web-app and mobile app) is our ideal solution.

It automates data collection in a central system, directly, through APP or by interfacing with any GPS source

The availment of algorithms based on scientific bibliography. i mproves players performances and prevents injuries

It solves communication problems among the club staff by monitoring their activities

The availment of BIG DATA and the creation of reference benchmarks allow the assessment of the growth of the players and help to make proper choices for the future

A detailed data collection system, eases the coordination of several scouts. An evaluation system of the most interesting profiles in real time, helps to take strategic choices by anticipating other clubs.

A medical area with a calendar to catalogue the injuries, file the medical reports, post-injury cares, daily information and detailed statistics.

Each company has different goals and targets, WeakRisk Sport Solutions satisfies every demand with a modular service.

Professional sports clubs need to collect and analyze data such as:

The performance of the players in trainings and matches, the analysis of internal and external loads and the pre and post training methodologies to prevent injuries

These are essential to develop increasingly evolved strategies to improve the performances of the players.
